Affordable Living

The NY Times calls Fresno one of the most affordable places to live in the country.

Fresno's affordable housing and healthy real estate market keep homeownership a reality.

Many people can buy here who can't afford to buy in other big cities across America.

Family-Friendly

Award-winning schools, great weather, and family-friendly communities attract young families to Fresno.

Touch a stingray at the zoo, race in a go-cart, visit art museums and historical landmarks, or eat a hotdog and root for the home team at a Triple-A ballgame.

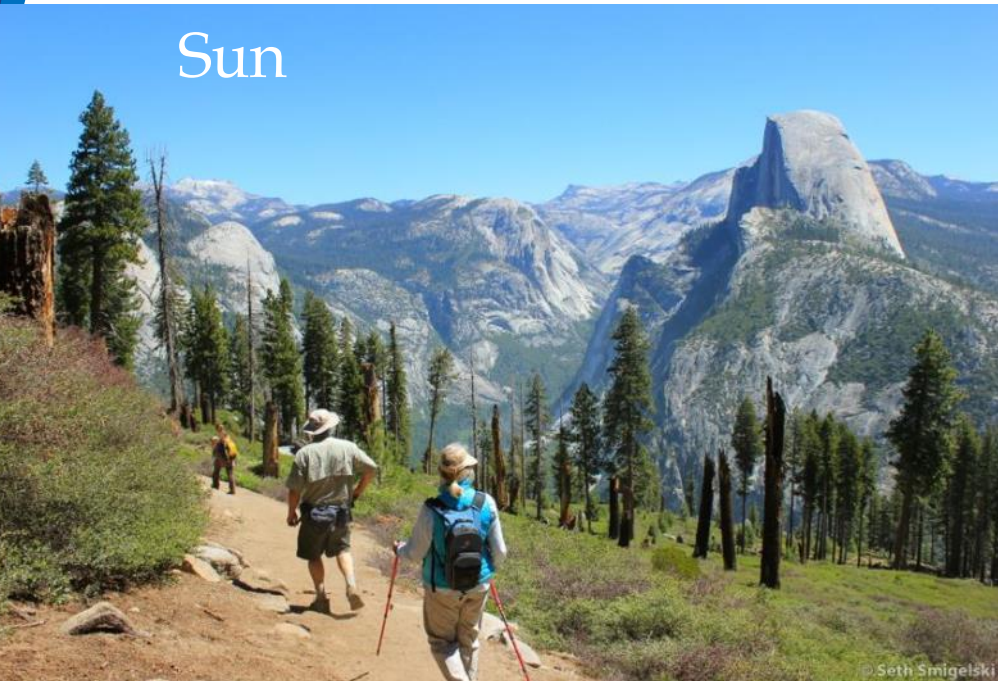

The CentralValley is packed with exciting adventures your whole family can enjoy.

There's more opportunity for families to settle down and live an awesome life in the Central Valley.

Your greatest memories are just a short drive from the Valley floor.

Explore National Parks

Located in the heart of California, the Central Valley is just the gateway to nature's most spectacular wonders.

Explore 25 million acres of world-class destinations, including Yosemite, Sequoia, and Kings Canyon National Parks.

Coastal Journeys

Enjoy the warm breezes and salt air year-round, on day-trip getaways.

The Central Coast offers you dining, shopping, recreation, soaking up the sun, winetasting, and spectacular sunsets.

Big City Living & Small Town Charm

Fresno offers you all the amenities of big city living, with a small town lifestyle.

Lots of shopping, an amazing restaurant scene, and big business opportunities attract city-lovers.

Friendly farmer's markets, lively community events and close-knit neighborhoods satisfy small-town hearts.

It really is the best of both worlds.

Hinds Hospice

We currently serve Fresno, Madera, and Merced Counties in the Central San Joaquin Valley of California.. We provide support for patients in their own homes, care facilities, and in our six-bed Hospice Home.

As a nonprofit, we offer services to anyone in the community. We care for patients with complex medical conditions who other hospices might turn away, and we never deny patients for financial reasons.

We hope you will consider becoming part of our team.
